DALE HOME IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Blaze Starting in Attic From Sulphur Candles Causes Loss Estimated at $1,000.

INSURANCE AMOUNTS TO $2,000

All of Household Goods on First Floor and Part on Second Floor Are Saved—Roof Caved In.

The residence of Oliver M. Dale, 424 North Main street, was badly damaged by fire this morning, shortly before noon, when a blaze started in the attic from sulphur candles being burnt to drive away moths.

The damaged was estimated at one thousand dollars, which was covered by insurance. Mr. Dale carried fifteen hundred dollars insurance on his house and five hundred dollars on the household goods.

Much damage was done by water, as well as by fire. The slate roof fell in, but the fire was confined to the second floor and the only damage done on the first floor was by water.

Mrs. O. E. Dale, mother of O. M. Dale, who is helpless from the infirmities of old age, was on the second floor when the fire was discovered and was removed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will M. Sparks two doors north. Mrs. Dale's husband died last week and she is in a very critical condition.

All of the household goods on the first floor and a part of them on the second floor were saved, but not many of the Dale belongings escaped the water.

It was considered rather remarkable that the homes of Joseph Cowing and Joseph Stiers, which are located on either side of the Dale home, did not catch on fire. The Stiers house is not more than ten feet from the Dale's residence. The paint on both houses on the sides nearest the fire was slightly cracked.

The fire was discovered by O. M. Dale on his return home about eleven o'clock. His wife and a colored woman were at work cleaning house and did not know the fire had started.

The fire fighting was done largely by volunteer firemen. The fire bell did not ring because of repairs being made to the fire tower and the members of the fire department had no way of knowing that there was a fire. Fire Chief Walter Easley was out of the city and Mayor C. L. Bebout took charge as soon as he arrived.

The end of one of Policeman Yakey's fingers was clipped off by an extension ladder and he had to go to a physician at once and have the wound dressed.

Mrs. Dale was thoughtful enough when the alarm of fire was sounded to save all of her jewels and other valuables, but after the fire was unable to find a purse containing a sum of money. It was later located, however. The colored woman who was assisting Mrs. Dale lost a purse and had not recovered it this afternoon.

SAYS WIFE WOULD NOT MAKE HIS BED

ALLEGES CRUEL TREATMENT

Alonzo W. Sleeth, a well known farmer of Ripley township, filed suit for divorce this morning from Belva A. Sleeth. Mr. Sleeth alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and states that she refused to do her household work properly and even failed to make his bed. He states in the complaint that she was cross and scolded almost continuously. The complaint states that she whipped the children excessively and frequently told them they didn't have any more sense than their father.

According to the complaint they were married in Louisville, Ky., February 16, 1906 and separated July 20, 1915. Sleeth alleges that she left him on this date without cause. He asks for a divorce and the custody of their three children. John A. Tittsworth represents the plaintiff.

SIXTY-NINE RACE ENTRIES

J. Q. Thomas, secretary of the Rush County Fair association, today received two hundred entries in the women's department of the fair, which will be held next week.

"I never saw the entries in the women's department start out that way," said Mr. Thomas today. "It looks like the women's department would be one of the most attractive at the fair this year."

Mr. Thomas stated that there were sixty-nine entries in the races thus far and the race horse men have all of this week yet to enter. The stake races at the fair this year are expected to make the racing the best in years because the purses in the stake events are $500.

AVERAGE WAGE OF TEACHER LOW

It is $388 a Year in Elementary Grades, According to Report of Supt C. M. George.

AVERAGE FOR ALL IS $640.30

Cost County Average of $60.27 Yearly to Maintain The Certified High Schools

The average wage of the Rush county school teacher is very low when it is taken into consideration that they work six, seven and nine months to complete the year. The seventy-seven elementary teachers in the county receive on an average of $388 for their year's work. The elementary teachers and the high school teachers together with the special teachers receive on an average of $640.30.

These figures are taken from the annual statistical report prepared by County Superintendent C. M. George and forwarded today to the state superintendent of public instruction. The total amount paid the school teachers by Rush county, including those of every class, is $88,231.12.

For teachers alone the townships and city corporations pay as follows: Anderson, $7,038.40; Center, $5,065; Jackson, $3,385; Noble, $4,043; Orange, $4,648.50; Posey, $5,320.85; Richland, $2,648; Ripley, $1,400; Rushville, $5,432; Union, $4,543.75; Walker, $7,016; Washington, $4,690.70; Carthage, $7,195; Rushville City, $25,804.92.

It costs Rush county an average of $60.27 for each pupil to maintain the six certified high schools of the county. The commissioned high schools—four altogether—cost the county to maintain them per pupil $56.67. The total number of pupils enrolled last year in all the schools of the county was 3,698. The average daily attendance was 2,582 for the elementary grades and 477 for the high schools.

The school property in the county is estimated at over a half million dollars, according to the report of Supt. George. The school property in all the county is estimated to be worth $561,500. This is divided among the townships and corporations as follows: Anderson, $45,000; Center, $35,000; Jackson, $7,500; Orange, $50,000; Noble, $30,000; Posey, $25,000; Richland, $13,000; Ripley, $3,500; Rushville, $4,000; Union, $35,000; Walker, $51,500; Washington, $22,000; Carthage, $30,000; Rushville City, $200,000. Two new school houses were erected or were in the process of erection during the year. These two new buildings were valued at $100,000. The one at Manilla is estimated to be worth $30,000 and the new one in this city is placed at $70,000.

The transportation item of the various township trustees is not small by any means. A total of $15,511.31 was expended during the year in hauling the pupils to and from school. A total of 717 pupils were hauled at this expense. For hauling and transporting children the townships paid as follows: Anderson, $1,830.40; Center, $1,343; Jackson, $75; Noble, $639; Orange, $1,199.75; Posey, $1,761.44; Richland, $352; Ripley, $1,895.75; Rushville, $1,360; Union, $1,268.67; Walker, $1,547; Washington, $2,239.30.

The county paid a total of $2,824. during the year to teachers for institute fees. All of the townships held eight institutes during the year with the exception of Center

ACCUSED MAN KILLS HIMSELF

Silas N. Eversole, Charged With Hazel Macklin's Murder, Dies by Hanging in Jail Cell.

AN ADMISSION OF GUILT

Police Believe Former Dunkard Minister Was Insane Because of His Recent Actions.

(By United Press.)

South Bend, Ind., August 16.—Silas N. Eversole, age sixty, former Dunkard minister, committed suicide in the jail here today. He was charged with the murder of fifteen-year-old Hazel Macklin, whose body was found in a vault in a park near here nearly a year ago. She had been strangled to death. Eversole's act today was taken as admission of guilt.

Eversole hanged himself in his cell. The police today declared he probably was insane. Since the Macklin girl's death, he has mentioned her name many times, and his actions about his farm have been peculiar.

The police had woven about Eversole a network of evidence which, though circumstantial, was considered by them to be conclusive.

Eversole used a novel method to take his life. He tore up from the floor a piece of lead pipe. One end of this he wrapped about his neck and the other he suspended a projection on the wall.

Hazel's body was found four weeks after she was reported missing. No search was made for her during that time, and it was only through the efforts of girls in her Sunday school class that an organized attempt was made to find her.

One of the main links in the chain of evidence the police had was the discovery that Eversole's alibi was a failure. It was developed that Eversole left South Bend the day after the murder of the girl, August 19, 1914, and went to Milwaukee, Wis., where he was in hiding more than six weeks.

This development was brought to light, the result of a trip by Chief of Detectives John B. Kuespert to Milwaukee last Friday in the hope of shattering the alibi offered by Eversole in explanation of his movements previous to and following the murder of the girl.

Eversole said he was not out of South Bend during the summer of 1914, and that his trip to Milwaukee was made in the early spring. He also declared that he had his beard shaved off in April, 1914. Neighbors of Eversole assert the beard was worn by Eversole as late as the middle of August, or four months after the date fixed by Eversole.

Chief of Detectives Kuespert is said to have traced the movements of Eversole in Milwaukee from the hour of his arrival to visit the family of a police officer to the time of his return. He also says he believed that Eversole went to Milwaukee to establish an "alibi" for use should the crime ever be traced to his door.

The Milwaukee officer with whom Eversole was said to have made his home while in that city was located through a general order sent out by Chief of Police Jansen of Milwaukee for every member of the police department of that city to report whether he had a visitor from South Bend last year.

By this means, it was found that Eversole was for two weeks a boarder with one family whose name Jansen and Kuespert suppressed. Eversole at that time was supposed to have been looking for work.

(By United Press.)

New York, August 16.—Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador, came to New York today. He spent the entire forenoon in his hotel rooms going over newspapers containing accounts of alleged German promotion of munition strikes in this country, and German propaganda methods.

The ambassador said he had nothing to say. Neither did he care to give any reason for his trip to New York.

DEPARTMENT TO PROBE CHARGES

Attorney General Gregory Says Agents Will Look Into Statements of New York World.

ABOUT GERMAN PROPAGANDA

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 16.—Justice department agents are probing wholesale charges of a $2,000,000 a week German propaganda in the United States as they are now appearing in documentary and other forms in the New York World. Attorney General Gregory made this partial statement today.

"I can not say we have gone very deeply into the matter as yet," he said, "but the department takes official cognizance of such things and there may be developments later or there may not, depending upon what is brought to light. The department will probe thoroughly anything that looks like a breach of neutrality. Further than this I do not care to speak."

FOR VIOLATING THE LIQUOR LAWS

George Daniels, Formerly of This City, One of Eight Indianapolis Saloon Men Charged.

REFORM LEAGUE RESPONSIBLE

George Daniels, formerly a saloon keeper of this city, was one of eight saloon keepers arrested Saturday, charged with the violation of liquor laws. The arrests were brought about by investigators employed by the Law Enforcement and Reform League, an organization backed by the Indiana Brewers association. Fred Johnson, attorney for the league, went to the prosecutor's office in Indianapolis with the investigators and had affidavits sworn out.

Daniels' saloon is located at 39 East Ohio street. He is charged with violating Section 3 of the Nicholson law and his bartender is charged with selling or giving away liquor on Sunday, August 8. The investigators say they visited this saloon at 2:20 o'clock in the afternoon and found fourteen men in the saloon.

CARRANZA WILL NOT STOP NOTE

"First Chief" Will Give Safe Conduct Passes to Messengers Through His Territory.

LEADERS ARE UNSERVED

General Villa's Response, Supposedly Favorable, is on its Way to Washington Today.

(By United Press.)

Washington, August 16.—The Carranza authorities will not attempt to prevent transmission of the Pan American note to Mexican leaders, Diplomatic Agent Parker reported from Mexico City today.

General Gonzales, commanding the city, informed Parker he will conduct safely messengers who will take the note to Zapata and other factional leaders, through Carranza territory.

Yet, there was some delay in the issuance of these safe conducts. Consequently, many factional leaders were still unserved today with copies of the appeal.

General Carranza and Villa had received theirs. However, from them, at least prompt responses were expected.

Carranza's failure to hold up the note was considered a good sign. Some thought he liked it better than he had expected. Others, less optimistic, believed he was satisfied he could depend on the loyalty of the leaders under him so that no occasion for exercising a censorship would arise.

General Villa's response, supposedly favorable, was supposed to be on its way to Washington today.

No confirmation was obtainable at the state department that General Calles, a Carranza commander, had already replied, leaving everything in the "first chief's" hands.

RAISING POULTRY For PROFIT

By John Wildig

The large light Brahmas that are hatched in very early autumn are caponized before winter and carried over, some of them as late as June, to be disposed of to the special Boston markets as soft roosters. They bring up to 35 cents per pound about June, so you will see that birds averaging eight or ten pounds are profitable.

Some may look upon the great big Bhahma as a coarse fowl and some of them are, but there are differing qualities and with many to choose from the breeder can secure those that are superior and that will improve the quality of his flock. With a new standard for table poultry nearly completed an era of high class table poultry in America may safely be prophesied, with a resultant demand for breeds improved in that particular line. You may also expect higher prices for the birds of breeders who on exhibition tables actually prove that their strains possess superior quality.

This means better quality for the millions of American consumers, and better quality means greater demand. The fact that the American poultry growers have in years past been producing a large amount of good average poultry and that there are wide differences in the quality of table poultry is evident to all who have made it a study. Certain localities in the old country particularly those districts that produce for the London, Paris and Brussels markets have profited largely by developing breeds and methods that poultry consumers appreciate.

It is apparent that American breeders are rapidly approaching a day when close study will be given genuine merit in the table qualities of many of our best breeds. To say a chicken is only a chicken according to its age, when you come to eat it is to confess ignorance of quality in poultry. We do not make much assertions when we purchase beef, mutton or pork.

Differences equal to any of the blooded strains of farm animals are now to be found in the poultry yards of American breeders. England for a number of years has profited in an educational way by the table poultry shows. Breeders at these exhibits compare actual qualities in the breeds and also note the differences between one race and another in table quality. Boston's table poultry show has not been a complete success but it has helped keep this very important feature of the industry before the great number of breeders and fanciers who exhibit at and attend the Boston show.

OFFERS AID TO RURAL TEACHERS

Department of Agriculture Would Help Them to Show Pupils Relation of Home Life

TO THAT OF THEIR STUDIES

Urges Encouragement in Home Projects Along With School Work, Score Cards Offered

Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—A number of suggestions to help the rural public school teacher in leading his or her pupils to see the direct relation between home life and their school studies are contained in a new publication of the Department of Agriculture.

This bulletin, No. 281, entitled "Correlating Agriculture With the Public School Subjects in the Northern States" contains a plan of work extending from September through the fall, winter and spring to the end of June. Under this plan each pupil is encouraged to undertake some home project; that is to say, some work at home which will be connected with the instruction in agriculture which the pupil receives at school, and a record of the results of which will be faithfully kept and turned in to the teacher at the conclusion of the project.

At school the pupil's exercises in arithmetic, spelling, English, geography, etc., are so directed that the value of these subjects in practical life is made clear. For example, in the language lessons, the pupil may be asked to write out the method which he used in testing milk with a Babcock tester, special emphasis being placed upon the need for making the meaning absolutely clear. In the same way the records obtained from cow testing may be used as exercise in arithmetic and the pupil asked to compute the total yield of butter fat, its money value, and the estimated profit from any given dairy herd.

In the supplement of the bulletin is contained a number of sample score cards designed to assist the teacher in rating agricultural exhibits which the pupils should be encouraged to make. The new bulletin is designed especially for rural school teachers in the northern States.

AREA OF FOREST REDUCED HALF

Proclamation Signed by President Returns Five Million Acres to Public Domain.

MUCH FINE TIMBER LAND

Will be Crossed by Railroad From Seward to Fairbanks—Three Large Tracks.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The area of the Chugach National Forest, Alaska, which is to be crossed by the railroad that the government is building from Seward to Fairbanks, is reduced nearly one-half by a proclamation, signed by President Wilson, returned approximately 5,802,000 acres to the public domain. This action follows classification of the land by the Forest Service showing that the areas involved are not of high enough timber value to warrant government protection, and means the largest elimination of National Forest land ever made by a single Presidential proclamation.

The boundaries of the Forest, as redrawn by the President's proclamation, now contain approximately 5,818,000 acres, supporting about 8 billion feet of merchantable timber. On the area thrown out of the Forest there is in the aggregate a large amount of timber, but it is so sparse and scattered as to be of little or no commercial value. The land remaining within the Forest, however, contains the largest and most accessible supply of timber for the development of the great mineral fields to the north of Bering River, and is the region in which the Alaskan Engineering Commission has been authorized to cut 85 million feet of timber for use in constructing the government's new railroad. On account of the time required for cutting and seasoning construction timber, the Commission has had to purchase some lumber from Washington and Oregon, but as cutting has already commenced on the Chugach, it is expected that the Alaskan timber will soon be serving the needs of the railroad builders.

The lands eliminated by the proclamation are in three large tracts; one along the entire southerly slope of the Chugach Mountains, the second lying northeast of Seward, between Resurrection Bay and Kings Bay, and the third, northwest of the Kenai Mountains in the region around Tupstamena and Skilak lakes. In addition, the towns of Hope, Sunrise, Kenai, and Ninihek are eliminated. According to the Forest Service, the chance of locating homesteads in the excluded lands is extremely small, since they contain few agricultural areas, although in some localities they are said to be small patches suitable for farming.

25 PURDUE EXPERTS AT THE INDIANA STATE FAIR

A staff of about 25 experts from Purdue University will spend the week of Sept. 6 at the Indiana State Fair, giving their entire attention to helping Hoosier farmers with their home problems. This is one of the greatest educational forces at the Indiana Fair, and is one of many educational features that the exposition always offers to the tillers of the soil, breeders and fruit growers of the state. The Purdue exhibit is being entirely re-organized for the coming Fair and it, as well as the instruction, will keep pace with the advancing interests of people from the farms.

The Purdue dairy exhibit, demonstrations and discussions will make this kind of instruction of still more benefit to men and women from the farms who come to the Fair. The Purdue chemists will instruct the farmers in the sale of feeding stuffs and fertilizers, as the new state law requires, and an extensive exhibit of fertilizers will be shown. Soil and crop improvement, rotation of crops, farm drainage, cultivation, and many more subjects will be treated by the Purdue men. Fighting hog cholera, garden and orchard pests, poultry raising, and other lines of farming activity will be other kinds of instruction available. The Purdue instruction and exhibits will, in fact, make short cuts to scientific farming that every farm man and woman may go home from the Fair with new ideas.

The State Food Commissioner will have a unique display showing weights and measures of legal and illegal kind, sanitation in keeping foods, fraudulent medicines and drugs.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

BUBBLING FOUNTAIN MAY BE DANGEROUS

Lips Should Not be Placed Around The Metal Ball But Drinker Should "Bite the Bubble."

SOME EXAMPLES ARE GIVEN

If improperly constructed or improperly used, the bubbling drinking fountain may be a greater menace to health than the common drinking cup. The other day an inspector of the U. S. Health Service took a seat beside a bubbling drinking fountain in a railway station and watched the way in which it was used. Forty-seven different persons, of whom 11 were men, 22 were women, and 14 were children, used the bubbling fountain. In almost every case the lips were placed almost completely around the metal ball from which the water spurted, and one small boy seemed as if he were trying to swallow it. Several of the men obviously were chewing tobacco. Of the 47 people, 4 were colored, 3 looked as though they might have tuberculosis, and 3 had an eruption upon the face.

Every person using the bubbling drinking fountain should bear in mind that the object of this sanitary device is to prevent the interchange of mouth secretions. When mucous and other matter becomes attached to metal it sometimes requires considerable force to remove it, and this is not always accomplished by a slowly current of water. In using the bubbling fountain the rule should be "Bite the Bubble." The lips should not touch any part of the fountain and under no condition should the fountain be used for rinsing the mouth or for expectorating.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these requisites, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, with dull, wrinkled and sallow of face.

"But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'santanel' tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Santanel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blisters, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Santanel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Santanel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "santanel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were truly refreshed and invigorated by its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Santanel tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpressiveness is another reason for the popularity of santanel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

Platform Breaking Continue

Refreshed by a long summer vacation and encouraged by its record in the past the Democratic party will be ready to resume the swinging of its axe upon the Baltimore platform when Congress reconvenes in December. And the Democratic axe certainly has remarkable demolishing power. There the few planks remaining intact in the platform on which the party got into power, and those few will undoubtedly go with the others to the splintered heap.

The reduced cost of living plank was perhaps one of the most potent of those that were smashed at the first opportunity, though the whack, wack, of the axe was heard at the same time on the plank when pledged the party to preservation of the merit system. It took lots of hammering to destroy those two planks but the free tolls pledge went out of the platform with only one well-aimed blow. There is one thing that can be said to the credit of Democracy, however,—it has been open and frank in the destruction of the platform. The three planks mentioned above were broken into a fine quality of kindling wood without the least sign of remorse or shame, and yet the havoc was wrought on more openly than in the case of destroying the pledge of economy. From the day of its installation in power, the Democratic party lost no opportunity to knock and hack and slobber that economy plank. The same is true of the efficiency plank. Indeed, there seems to be much display of glee as the leaders of the administration dance around the few scattered remains of the efficiency pledge.

And there is to be no cessation of the axe swinging. The single-term plank is still untouched but the weapon of destruction is now swinging high, ready to crash upon that hated pledge. It is apparently doomed to destruction. It will go along with that other substantial but already demolished pledge "not to injure legitimate industry." It can hope for no better fate. It will lie in the scrap heap beside the plank which pledged the party to the "development of a merchant marine without imposing additional burdens upon the people." It stands no more chance of survival than does the plank which promised national aid in the construction of post roads.

What there is left of it, it is a sorry looking wreck though it is still some platform compared with what it will be after the Democratic party has had another chance at it. Though it was solemnly declared to be a platform of "pledges made to be kept when in office as well as relied upon during the campaign," it served its purpose prior to election day and has no further usefulness. It was truly not "molasses to catch flies;" it was a "hook to catch suckers."

Recent Coal Strike Could Have Been

Avoided if John Bull Had Borrowed Trouble

AGREEMENT WAS TO END

It Was Lloyd George Who Again Adjusted The Difficulty And Put Them to Work

BY ED L. KEEN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
London, Aug. 2: (By Mail).—Providence takes care of drunken men, babies, and—England.

According to some irreverent folks amended version of the old adage is quite justified, especially in view of the timely settlement of the recent coal strike.

Anyhow, it is conceded on all hands over here that John Bull seldom did a more thorough job of "muddling through;"—likewise is it admitted that in this particular instance Providence was materially assisted by one David Lloyd George, the new "Business Manager of the British Empire."

The censorship muddle, the recruiting muddle, the Dardanelles muddle, the shells muddle, the machine-gun muddle, the Cabinet muddle, and all the other muddles, big and little, in which Great Britain has been involved since the Great War began—none of them contained such possibilities of widespread disaster as the coal strike muddle. Not only was England face to face with industrial paralysis and general domestic disorder, if not revolution; but she had already been unofficially reproved by her Allies, who recently had been none to enthusiastic anyhow over the support she had had been giving them on the battlefield. The great manufacturing establishments had begun to feel the pinch; a number of the coal-carrying roads had closed down; the Admiralty had grabbed all the available coal supply on the South Wales docks; the increased flow of munitions which Lloyd George had just gotten well started was gravely jeopardized, and—perhaps more portentous than anything else—half a dozen French ships were lying in Cardiff harbor with empty bunkers.

For three months the situation had been developing. If John Bull had merely glanced in that direction he would have seen it; but John probably figured he had quite enough troubles in stock without frisking the future for more. Hunting for trouble never was one of John's long suits.

The five year agreement of the South Wales Miners Federation with the Coal Owners was due to expire June 30. The men had given the required three months' notice that they desired a new deal. The masters refused to listen. The deadlock continued and it was not until three days before the date of expiration of the old agreement that Walter Ruriman, President of the Government Board of Trade, whose most important duty it is to prevent strikes if possible intervened. Even then he did not go to South Wales to investigate conditions on the spot or by personal influence among the men and masters endeavor to avert the calamity that everyone in the district was sure would befall the nation. He handled the situation in good old bureaucratic fashion here at his desk in London. It must be said for the masters that they put themselves practically in his hands when they realized the determination of the men. Ruriman framed an award which conceded most of the men's demands. But where as this was satisfactory to the Federation leaders, it was rejected by the rank and file. After keeping the men at work on day-to-day contracts for a fortnight, the leaders could go no further, and the strike was on.

Now, there has been a lot said about lack of patriotism on the part of the miners; but very little about the masters. The real reason for this strike was the question of war profits. With the cost of living increased from 50 to 60 percent, the miners felt that they were entitled to share in the enormous profits accruing to the coal owners by reason of the war. But even at that, when the trouble first started, the men said to the masters, in effect "If you will sell coal at the old prices, we will go on working at the old wage. But if it is your purpose to make money out of the war, we see no reason why we should not share this profit with you. We object to having our patriotism capitalized for your benefit. Is it patriotic to go on increasing the price of coal, not only to our own people but also to our Allies?"

Regardless of whether the miners were right of wrong in their attitude, there is no question but what the owners had taken advantage of the war to line their pockets. Coal prices in London last winter averaged $2.25 per ton above normal; and the cheaper grades which most of the poor people buy—were in some instances as much as $2.75 higher than normally. Against this, place the fact that the miners' original demands in their entirety amounted to an increase of only 9 cents a ton on the cost of production!

In answer to the charge of want of patriotism on their part the miners point out that nearly 100,000 men have been sent to the war from South Wales—56,000 from one county alone. President Winstone of the Miners' Federation has a son in the army; Treasurer Onions, eldest son was recently killed in action, and he had two other sons serving; three of Secretary Richards' sons are in the trenches; Executive Committeeman Gill is a lieutenant in the army, and Watts Morgan, one of the most influential leaders in the district, is captain of a troop of Rhondda ex-miners.

The strike would still be on today—or there would have been nationalization of the mines—were it not for Lloyd George. When the Minister of Munitions went to South Wales he carried concealed weapons but he didn't have to use them. His marvelous personal magnetism won the day with his fellow countrymen. It was some job, and it is exceedingly doubtful if any other man in England could have accomplished the result so satisfactorily, especially in view of the fierce resentment that had been aroused through the hasty application of the penalty clauses of the Munitions Act to the district. That the men got nearly all they asked for was due to Lloyd George's appreciation of the justice of their claim to a fair share of the war profits of the masters.

WEATHER FOOLED LOCAL MANAGEMENT

Game With Connersville Called Off Too Early as it Turned Out to be Fine Day.

K. OF C.'S DEFEATED RED MEN

The weather man slipped one over on the local team yesterday. After the Connersville game had been declared off the sun came out and it turned out to be the best Sunday in a month, and one of the few clear Sundays of the entire season. The rains of last week left the diamond in a muddy condition, but the Rushers and Connersville could have played. The rain Saturday soaked the ground just as it was beginning to dry off real good. Arrangements for next Sunday are not known.

In absence of the Rushers, the Red Men and K. of C. teams of the fraternal league put on an exhibition. The game was won by the K. of C. team, by a score of 4 to 1. Stoops and Miller formed the battery for the Red Men while McKee and Doll worked for the K. of C. team.

Mrs. Harry Hammond Expects to be in Form For Chicago Meet, Which Starts Aug. 23

DOES NOT HAVE TO QUALIFY

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 16.—Mrs. Harry Hammond, the women's western golf champion, was working steadily at Highland course today in preparation for the tournament in Chicago, opening August 23, at which she will defend her title.

Mrs. Hammond has been badly off form this season at times, but her friends reported today that she was gradually overcoming her difficulties and expected to be ready for all comers. Rules governing the women's tournament do not require the title holder to qualify so Mrs. Hammond will not play until the first round has been finished.

RED SOX LOST.

The Arlington Red Sox lost to the Business Mens' club at Connersville yesterday 3 to 2, the game going sixteen innings. The contest was one of the best ever witnessed on the Connersville grounds. Scott Cooley, for Connersville, opposed Peck Orme and both pitchers went the entire distance.

BALANCE IS IN FAVOR OF ALLIES

Massing of Austro-German Troops Along Serbian Frontier Does Not Help Their Cause.

BELGRADE IS ATTACKED

Offensive Move is Believed to Fore-cast Drive Through Balkans to Aid of Turkey.

(By United Press.) Rome, August 16.—Massing of Austro-German troops along the Serbian frontier and the bombardment of Belgrade, coming at a critical time in the Balkan negotiation, may throw the balance in favor of the allies and bring Bulgaria, Rumania and Greece into the war.

Dispatches from Bucharest and Sofia early today said the greatest alarm has been caused here by news that the Austrians have resumed the offensive on the Serbian frontier preliminary to an Austro-German drive through the Balkans to the relief of Turkey. Both Rumanian and Bulgarian diplomats fear such a move threatens the national existence of their countries.

Both the Grecian and Serbian parliament met today and the Rumanian crown council met yesterday. The decisions they are to make, possibly within the next fortnight, probably will settle the fate of the Balkan states and will have tremendous influence on the outcome of the world war.

DOUBLE HEADER ON FOR NEXT SUNDAY

Manager Davidson Announces That Buckeye Girls Team and White Sox Will be Attraction.

BOTH TEAMS TACKLE RUSHERS

Manager Davidson has arranged for a big double bill for next Sunday offering the fans two games for the price of one. The Buckeye Bloomer Girls will play the Rushers the curtain raiser to the big game and then the Ludlow White Sox will be the big attraction of the afternoon.

The White Sox defeated the Louisville White Sox last Sunday 3 to 1 and from this the fans will see that they have a real ball game. The Bloomer girls have won from several fast teams this season. As an added attraction they play a one-armed outfielder that is said to be a wonder. The two games should draw a large crowd. The Buckeye girls' team will not only prove a novel attraction but will give the Rushville team a god game. The first game of the double header will start at 2 o'clock.

FINANCE IS BIG PROBLEM

Perplexing Question Regarding Road Building is Whether Bond Issue is Best Method.

OR IS IT DIRECT TAXATION?

Problems of Sinking Funds and Bond Retirements All Appeals to Financial Sense.

New York, August 16.—The dominating problem in connection with highway building at the present time is unquestionably that of Finance and Indebtedness. This applies both to country roads and city streets and involves the questions as to whether direct taxation or bond issue are preferable; the proper term for bonds; the bonds which may be judiciously issued for road and street construction under given conditions; the legislation which may be necessary in reducing these essential factors from the hap-hazard to a basis which shall be scientific and economic; the questions of sinking funds, and bond retirements; all appeal directly to the best financial sense of all citizens, when road or street improvement is contemplated.

The fact that probably one-half of the counties and cities in the United States and other American countries are now at some stage of the agitation for highway betterment makes financial problem one of paramount importance. The subject will be presented and discussed in all its phases at the Pan-American Road Congress, which will assemble at Municipal Auditorium, Oakland, California, Monday, September 13, and continue five days.

While steady and regular advancement has been made during the past ten years in methods of road and street construction, maintenance, and administration, it has been through the Annual Conventions of the two great National organizations, the American Road Builders' Association and the American Highway Association that the knowledge of the various lines of improvement has become general, and the whole world enabled to profit. This year the two Associations have joined their forces to organize the Pan-American road Congress, and secure the presence of delegates from practically every country in All America. They will be aided on the Pacific coast by two organizations with memberships in California, Oregon and Washington, The Tri-State Good Roads Association and the Pacific Highway Association.

Twenty-seven subjects will be considered at the Congress. Six of these are educational; the other twenty-one are open to discussion, not only by those selected by the program committee to prepare papers and lead discussions, but by any one, delegate, member or visitor who may be present, so that all known facts be brought out.

The story was told to Rushville residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence.

The proof convincing.

It can be investigated by Rushville residents.

Harrison Levi, 931 North Sexton street, Rushville, Ind., says: "I had to get up several times at night to pass the kidney secretions, which were sometimes attended with pain. I had severe backaches, too. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store and it did not take them long to make me well. The pains left and the action of my kidneys became regular."

(Statement given June 1910.)

Over two years later, Mr. Levi said: "I am still free from kidney weakness, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills."

GOVERNORS TO MEET IN BOSTON

Thirty-Six States Will be Represented at Annual Session Starting August 24.

FAVOR CITIZEN SOLDIER

Administrative Problems Will Have Place on Program—To Discuss Short Ballot.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 16.—Thirty-six governors of as many states will meet in Boston, August 24, 25, 26 and 27, to attend the annual sessions of the Governors' Conference, where they will hear and participate in the discussion of what the states can do to improve the national defense, according to an announcement by Secretary M. C. Riley, Secretary of the Conference.

"While the times and conditions have forced this subject upon the attention of the entire world, no governor, so far as I have heard, fears that the present world war will force the United States to adopt a policy of militarism," said Secretary Riley. "However, all the governors feel that it is time that immediate steps be taken to develop a stronger and more efficient citizen-soldier. For this reason, the Relation of the State to the National Defense has been given a prominent place on the program.

"Notwithstanding all this, other important subjects will be considered. In many states there has grown up in recent years a well defined movement to concentrate in the executive responsibility for efficient service and economical administration. Many governors will go to Boston this year expecting to benefit in a large way from an exchange of experience with executives of other states. This is an off year so far as the meeting of legislatures are concerned. The sessions of the legislature of the various states have closed. The attention of the governors for the next year will be centered upon problems of administration. Therefore, prominent place has been given to administrative problems on the Conference program. Under this head the following subjects will be presented and discussed: "The Short Ballot," "The Functions of the Governor in Relation to the State Budget," and "Economy and Efficiency in the State."

"Governors Whitman of New York, Alexander of Idaho, Hammond of Minnesota, Willis of Ohio, Major of Missouri, Spaulding of New Hampshire, and Byrne of South Dakota will present these papers and lead the discussions to follow.

"Governors of the western states will present their conceptions of what is true conservation of natural resources. Many of them have taken direct issue with the federal policy of retaining under federal control lands and mines, and water power sites. These governors insist that substantial and satisfactory progress in the development of the west cannot be expected under the federal policy and that true progress can only be made by allowing the western states to deal with these problems according to their judgment which is based upon a more intimate knowledge of the situation.

"Governors Carlson of Colorado, Spry of Utah, Boyle of Nevada and former Governors Ammonds of Colorado and Hawley of Idaho will present the cause of the western people."

STUDENTS HELP HARVEST CROP

Many Are Going to Fields in Minnesota, But Transportation Problem Looms Big

FREE CAR FARE IN CANADA

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 16.—Transportation of thousands of men to harvest the Northwest's bumper crops is looming up as a serious problem to the farmers of the Northwest states. In Canada, the situation was relieved by railroads offering free transportation. The anti-pass law and the fact that man laborers were concentrated in the cities during the spring, because there was little railroad repair work done through country districts, added to the difficulties of farmers.

Corn was slightly damaged by the recent rains, but other than that crop there has been a universal improvement in the Northwest crops, over last year's condition. Wheat is in prime condition, and will begin to move about Sept. 1. Flax, in fair condition, is beginning to move today. Dean Woods of the Minnesota agricultural school, urges that at least two-thirds of the college students go to the harvest fields this year.

SCHOOL BOARD IS IN QUANDARY

Question Regarding The Employing of Married Women Teachers to go to Higher Court

CONTRACT CLAUSE ILLEGAL

(By United Press.)

Portland, Ore., Aug. 16.—The city school board is in a quandary today. Whether to employ teachers who have embarked on the sea of matrimony is the question.

Early this year the school board discharged a fair instructor who dared to marry. She appealed to the courts and Circuit Judge Morrow held that unless she were shown to be unfit to teach she should be reinstated and given the salary she would have earned had she occupied her place in the school room.

The board has decided to appeal to the supreme court.

Heretofore each woman accepting a position as teacher in the public school has been compelled to sign a contract accepting dismissal in case she married. Judge Morrow held such a contractual clause was illegal.

Every citizen should loyally support the Great Rush County Fair by attending and taking something for exhibition. 13311

DALE HOME IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Blaze Starting in Attic From Sulphur Candles Causes Loss Estimated at $1,000.

INSURANCE AMOUNTS TO $2,000

All of Household Goods on First Floor and Part on Second Floor Are Saved—Roof Caved In.

The residence of Oliver M. Dale, 424 North Main street, was badly damaged by fire this morning, shortly before noon, when a blaze started in the attic from sulphur candles being burnt to drive away moths.

The damaged was estimated at one thousand dollars, which was covered by insurance. Mr. Dale carried fifteen hundred dollars insurance on his house and five hundred dollars on the household goods.

Much damage was done by water, as well as by fire. The slate roof fell in, but the fire was confined to the second floor and the only damage done on the first floor was by water.

Mrs. O. E. Dale, mother of O. M. Dale, who is helpless from the infirmities of old age, was on the second floor when the fire was discovered and was removed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will M. Sparks, two doors north. Mrs. Dale's husband died last week and she is in a very critical condition.

All of the household goods on the first floor and a part of them on the second floor were saved, but not many of the Dale belongings escaped the water.

It was considered rather remarkable that the homes of Joseph Cowing and Joseph Stiers, which are located on either side of the Dale home, did not catch on fire. The Stiers house is not more than ten feet from the Dale's residence. The paint on both houses on the sides nearest the fire was slightly cracked.

The fire was discovered by O. M. Dale on his return home about eleven o'clock. His wife and a colored woman were at work cleaning house and did not know the fire had started.

The fire fighting was done largely by volunteer firemen. The fire bell did not ring because of repairs being made to the fire tower and the members of the fire department had no way of knowing that there was a fire. Fire Chief Walter Easley was out of the city and Mayor C. L. Bebout took charge as soon as he arrived.

The end of one of Policeman Yakey's fingers was clipped off by an extension ladder and he had to go to a physician at once and have the wound dressed.

Mrs. Dale was thoughtful enough when the alarm of fire was sounded to save all of her jewels and other valuables, but after the fire was unable to find a purse containing a sum of money. It was later located, however. The colored woman who was assisting Mrs. Dale lost a purse and had not recovered it this afternoon.

William Miller, 93 years old, a former resident of Milroy died Sunday morning at one o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. America Mondhank in Richmond. Death was due to senility and came after a several weeks' illness. Mr. Miller was well known here, although he had lived in Richmond for some time. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mondhank and Mrs. J. C. Demmer of this county. The remains will be taken to the home of Doll Jones in Milroy and the funeral services will be conducted there Tuesday morning at nine o'clock. Burial will take place in the Milroy cemetery.

SAYS WIFE WOULD NOT MAKE HIS BED

This is One of Allegations in Suit For Divorce Filed by Alonzo Sleeth of Ripley Township.

ALLEGES CRUEL TREATMENT

Alonzo W. Sleeth, a well known farmer of Ripley township, filed suit for divorce this morning from Belva A. Sleeth. Mr. Sleeth alleges cruel and inhuman treatment and states that she refused to do her housework properly and even failed to make his bed. He states in the complaint that she was cross and scolded almost continuously. The complaint states that she whipped the children excessively and frequently told them they didn't have any more sense than their father.

According to the complaint they were married in Louisville, Ky., February 16, 1906 and separated July 20, 1915. Sleeth alleges that she left him on this date without cause. He asks for a divorce and the custody of their three children. John A. Tittsworth represents the plaintiff.

SIXTY-NINE RACE ENTRIES

J. Q. Thomas, secretary of the Rush County Fair association, today received two hundred entries in the women's department of the fair, which will be held next week.

"I never saw the entries in the women's department start out that way," said Mr. Thomas today. "It looks like the women's department would be one of the most attractive at the fair this year."

Mr. Thomas stated that there were sixty-nine entries in the races thus far and the race horse men have all of this week yet to enter. The stake races at the fair this year are expected to make the racing the best in years because the purses in the stake events are $500.

AVERAGE WAGE OF TEACHER LOW

It is $388 a Year in Elementary Grades, According to Report of Supt C. M. George.

AVERAGE FOR ALL IS $640.30

Cost County Average of $60.27 Yearly to Maintain The Certified High Schools

The average wage of the Rush county school teacher is very low when it is taken into consideration that they work six, seven and nine months to complete the year. The seventy-seven elementary teachers in the county receive on an average of $388 for their year's work. The elementary teachers and the high school teachers together with the special teachers receive on an average of $604.30.

These figures are taken from the annual statistical report prepared by County Superintendent C. M. George and forwarded today to the state superintendent of public instruction. The total amount paid the school teachers by Rush county, including those of every class, is $88,231.12.

For teachers alone the townships and city corporations pay as follows: Anderson, $7,038.40; Center, $5,065; Jackson, $3,385; Noble, $4,043; Orange, $4,648.50; Posey, $5,320.85; Richland, $2,648; Ripley, $1,400; Rushville, $5,432; Union, $4,543.75; Walker, $7,016; Washington, $4,690.70; Carthage, $7,195; Rushville City, $25,804.92.

It costs Rush county an average of $60.27 for each pupil to maintain the six certified high schools of the county. The commissioned high schools—four altogether—cost the county to maintain them per pupil $56.67. The total number of pupils enrolled last year in all the schools of the county was 3,698. The average daily attendance was 2,582 for the elementary grades and 477 for the high schools.

The school property in the county is estimated at over a half million dollars, according to the report of Supt. George. The school property in all the county is estimated to be worth $561,500. This is divided among the townships and corporations as follows: Anderson, $45,000; Center, $35,000; Jackson, $7,500; Orange, $50,000; Noble, $30,000; Posey, $25,000; Richland, $13,000; Ripley, $3,500; Rushville, $4,000; Union, $35,000; Walker, $51,500; Washington, $22,000; Carthage, $30,000; Rushville City, $200,000. Two new school houses were erected or were in the process of erection during the year. These two new buildings were valued at $100,000. The one at Manilla is estimated to be worth $30,000 and the new one in this city is placed at $70,000.

The transportation item of the various township trustees is not small by any means. A total of $15,511.31 was expended during the year in hauling the pupils to and from school. A total of 717 pupils were hauled at this expense. For hauling and transporting children the townships paid as follows: Anderson, $1,830.40; Center, $1,343; Jackson, $75; Noble, $639; Orange, $1,199.75; Posey, $1,761.44; Richland, $352; Ripley, $1,895.75; Rushville, $1,360; Union, $1,268.67; Walker, $1,547; Washington, $2,239.30.

The county paid a total of $2,324 during the year to teachers for institute fees. All of the townships held eight institutes during the year, with the exception of Center

ACCUSED MAN KILLS HIMSELF

Silas N. Eversole, Charged With Hazel Macklin's Murder, Dies by Hanging in Jail Cell.

AN ADMISSION OF GUILT

Police Believe Former Dunkard Minister Was Insane Because of His Recent Actions.

(By United Press.)
South Bend, Ind., August 16.—Silas N. Eversole, age sixty, former Dunkard minister, committed suicide in the jail here today. He was charged with the murder of fifteen-year-old Hazel Macklin, whose body was found in a vault in a park near here nearly a year ago. She had been strangled to death. Eversole's act today was taken as admission of guilt.

Eversole hanged himself in his cell. The police today declared he probably was insane. Since the Macklin girl's death, he has mentioned her name many times, and his actions about his farm have been peculiar.

The police had woven about Eversole a network of evidence which, though circumstantial, was considered by them to be conclusive.

Eversole used a novel method to take his life. He tore up from the floor a piece of lead pipe. One end of this he wrapped about his neck and the other he suspended a projection on the wall.

Hazel's body was found four weeks after she was reported missing. No search was made for her during that time, and it was only through the efforts of girls in her Sunday school class that an organized attempt was made to find her.

One of the main links in the chain of evidence the police had was the discovery that Eversole's alibi was a failure. It was developed that Eversole left South Bend the day after the murder of the girl, August 19, 1914, and went to Milwaukee, Wis., where he was in hiding more than six weeks.

This development was brought to light, the result of a trip by Chief of Detectives John B. Kuespert to Milwaukee last Friday in the hope of shattering the alibi offered by Eversole in explanation of his movements previous to and following the murder of the girl.

Eversole said he was not out of South Bend during the summer of 1914, and that his trip to Milwaukee was made in the early spring. He also declared that he had his beard shaved off in April, 1914. Neighbors of Eversole assert the beard was worn by Eversole as late as the middle of August, or four months after the date fixed by Eversole.

Chief of Detectives Kuespert is said to have traced the movements of Eversole in Milwaukee from the hour of his arrival to visit the family of a police officer to the time of his return. He also says he believed that Eversole went to Milwaukee to establish an "alibi" for use should the crime ever be traced to his door.

The Milwaukee officer with whom Eversole was said to have made his home while in that city was located through a general order sent out by Chief of Police Jansen of Milwaukee for every member of the police department of that city to report whether he had a visitor from South Bend last year.

By this means, it was found that Eversole was for two weeks a boarder with one family whose name Jansen and Kuespert suppressed. Eversole at that time was supposed to have been looking for work

New York, August 16.—Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador, came to New York today. He spent the entire forenoon in his hotel rooms going over newspapers containing accounts of alleged German promotion of munition strikes in this country, and German propaganda methods.

ABOUT GERMAN PROPAGANDA

(By United Press.)
Washington, August 16.—Justice department agents are probing wholesale charges of a $2,000,000 a week German propaganda in the United States as they are now appearing in documentary and other forms in the New York World. Attorney General Gregory made this partial statement today.

"I can not say we have gone very deeply into the matter as yet," he said, "but the department takes official cognizance of such things and there may be developments later or there may not, depending upon what is brought to light. The department will probe thoroughly anything that looks like a breach of neutrality. Further than this I do not care to speak."

FOR VIOLATING THE LIQUOR LAWS

George Daniels, Formerly of This City, One of Eight Indianapolis Saloon Men Charged.

REFORM LEAGUE RESPONSIBLE

George Daniels, formerly a saloon keeper of this city, was one of eight saloon keepers arrested Saturday, charged with the violation of liquor laws. The arrests were brought about by investigators employed by the Law Enforcement and Reform League, an organization backed by the Indiana Brewers association. Fred Johnson, attorney for the league, went to the prosecutor's office in Indianapolis with the investigators and had affidavits sworn out.

Daniels' saloon is located at 39 East Ohio street. He is charged with violating Section 3 of the Nicholson law and his bartender is charged with selling or giving away liquor on Sunday, August 8. The investigators say they visited this saloon at 2:20 o'clock in the afternoon and found fourteen men in the saloon.

CARRANZA WILL NOT STOP NOTE

"First Chief" Will Give Safe Conduct Passes to Messengers Through His Territory.

LEADERS ARE UNSERVED

General Villa's Response, Supposedly Favorable, is on its Way to Washington Today.

(By United Press.)
Washington, August 16.—The Carranza authorities will not attempt to prevent transmission of the Pan American note to Mexican leaders, Diplomatic Agent Parker reported from Mexico City today.

General Gonzales, commanding the city, informed Parker he will conduct safely messengers who will take the note to Zapata and other factional leaders, through Carranza territory.

Yet, there was some delay in the issuance of these safe conducts. Consequently, many factional leaders were still unserved today with copies of the appeal.

General Carranza and Villa had received theirs. However, from them, at least prompt responses were expected.

Carranza's failure to hold up the note was considered a good sign. Some thought he liked it better than he had expected. Others, less optimistic, believed he was satisfied he could depend on the loyalty of the leaders under him so that no occasion for exercising a censorship would arise.

General Villa's response, supposedly favorable, was supposed to be on its way to Washington today. No confirmation was obtainable at the state department that General Calles, a Carranza commander, had already replied, leaving everything in the "first chief's" hands.

RAISING POULTRY For PROFIT

By John Wildig

The large light Brahmas that are hatched in very early autumn are caponized before winter and carried over, some of them as late as June, to be disposed of to the special Boston markets as soft roosters. They bring up to 35 cents per pound about June, so you will see that birds averaging eight or ten pounds are profitable.

Some may look upon the great big Braham as a coarse fowl and some of them are, but there are differing qualities and with many to choose from the breeder can secure those that are superior and that will improve the quality of his flock. With a new standard for table poultry nearly completed an era of high class table poultry in America may safely be prophesied, with a resultant demand for breeds improved in that particular line. You may also expect higher prices for the birds of breeders who on exhibition tables actually prove that their strains possess superior quality.

This means better quality for the millions of American consumers, and better quality means greater demand. The fact that the American poultry growers have in years past been producing a large amount of good average poultry and that there are wide differences in the quality of table poultry is evident to all who have made it a study. Certain localities in the old country particularly those districts that produce for the London, Paris and Brussels markets have profited largely by developing breeds and methods that poultry consumers appreciate.

It is apparent that American breeders are rapidly approaching a day when close study will be given genuine merit in the table qualities of many of our best breeds. To say a chicken is only a chicken according to its age, when you come to eat it is to confess ignorance of quality in poultry. We do not make much assertions when we purchase beef, mutton or pork.

Differences equal to any of the blooded strains of farm animals are now to be found in the poultry yards of American breeders. England for a number of years has profited in an educational way by the table poultry shows. Breeders at these exhibits compare actual qualities in the breeds and also note the differences between one race and another in table quality. Boston's table poultry show has not been a complete success, but it has helped keep this very important feature of the industry before the great number of breeders and fanciers who exhibit at and attend the Boston show.

OFFERS AID TO RURAL TEACHERS

Department of Agriculture Would Help Them to Show Pupils Relation of Home Life

TO THAT OF THEIR STUDIES

Urges Encouragement in Home Projects Along With School Work, Score Cards Offered

Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—A number of suggestions to help the rural public school teacher in leading his or her pupils to see the direct relation between home life and their school studies are contained in a new publication of the Department of Agriculture.

This bulletin, No. 281, entitled "Correlating Agriculture With the Public School Subjects in the Northern States" contains a plan of work extending from September through the fall, winter and spring to the end of June. Under this plan each pupil is encouraged to undertake some home project; that is to say, some work at home which will extend through a whole season, will be connected with the instruction in agriculture which the pupil receives at school, and a record of the results of which will be faithfully kept and turned in to the teacher at the conclusion of the project.

At school the pupil's exercises in arithmetic, spelling, English, geography, etc., are so directed that the value of these subjects in practical life is made clear. For example, in the language lessons, the pupil may be asked to write out the method which he used in testing milk with a Babcock tester, special emphasis being placed upon the need for making the meaning absolutely clear. In the same way the records obtained from cow testing may be used as exercise in arithmetic and the pupil asked to compute the total yield of butter fat, its money value, and the estimated profit from any given dairy herd.

In the supplement of the bulletin is contained a number of sample score cards designed to assist the teacher in rating agricultural exhibits which the pupils should be encouraged to make. The new bulletin is designed especially for rural school teachers in the northern States.

AREA OF FOREST REDUCED HALF

Proclamation Signed by President Returns Five Million Acres to Public Domain.

MUCH FINE TIMBER LAND

Will be Crossed by Railroad From Seward to Fairbanks—Three Large Tracks.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The area of the Chugach National Forest, Alaska, which is to be crossed by the railroad that the government is building from Seward to Fairbanks, is reduced nearly one-half by a proclamation, signed by President Wilson, returned approximately 5,802,000 acres to the public domain. This action follows classification of the land by the Forest Service showing that the areas involved are not of high enough timber value to warrant government protection, and means the largest elimination of National Forest land ever made by a single Presidential proclamation.

The boundaries of the Forest, as redrawn by the President's proclamation, now contain approximately 5,818,000 acres, supporting about 8 billion feet of merchantable timber. On the area thrown out of the Forest there is in the aggregate a large amount of timber, but it is so sparse and scattered as to be of little or no commercial value. The land remaining within the Forest, however, contains the largest and most accessible supply of timber for the development of the great mineral fields to the north of Bering River, and is the region in which the Alaskan Engineering Commission has been authorized to cut 85 million feet of timber for use in constructing the government's new railroad. On account of the time required for cutting and seasoning construction timber, the Commission has had to purchase some lumber from Washington and Oregon, but as cutting has already commenced on the Chugach, it is expected that the Alaskan timber will soon be serving the needs of the railroad builders.

The lands eliminated by the proclamation are in three large tracts; one along the entire southern slope of the Chugach Mountains, the second lying northeast of Seward, between Resurrection Bay and Kings Bay and the third, northwest of the Kenai Mountains in the region around Tustumena and Skilak lakes. In addition, the towns of Hope, Sunrise, Kenai, and Ninilchek are eliminated. According to the Forest Service, the chance of locating homesteads in the excluded lands is extremely small, since they contain few agricultural areas, although in some localities they are said to be small patches suitable for farming.

25 PURDUE EXPERTS AT THE INDIANA STATE FAIR

A staff of about 25 experts from Purdue University will spend the week of Sept. 6 at the Indiana State Fair, giving their entire attention to helping Hoosier farmers with their home problems. This is one of the greatest educational forces at the Indiana Fair, and is one of many educational features that the exposition always offers to the tillers of the soil, breeders and fruit growers of the state. The Purdue exhibit is being entirely re-organized for the coming Fair and it, as well as the instruction, will keep pace with the advancing interests of people from the farms.

The Purdue dairy exhibit, demonstrations and discussions will make this kind of instruction of still more benefit to men and women from the farms who come to the Fair. The Purdue chemists will instruct the farmers in the sale of feeding stuffs and fertilizers, as the new state law requires, and an extensive exhibit of fertilizers will be shown. Soil and crop improvement, rotation of crops, farm drainage, cultivation, and many more subjects will be treated by the Purdue men. Fighting hog cholera, garden and orchard pests, poultry raising, and other lines of farming activity will be other kinds of instruction available. The Purdue instruction and exhibits will in fact make short cuts to scientific farming that every farm man and woman may go home from the Fair with new ideas. The State Food Commissioner will have a unique display showing weights and measures of legal and illegal food, sanitation in keeping foods, fraudulent medicines and drugs.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering, At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully rundown state of health, had internal troubles, and was so extremely nervous and prostrated that if I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache."

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

BUBBLING FOUNTAIN MAY BE DANGEROUS

Lips Should Not be Placed Around
The Metal Ball But Drinker
Should "Bite the Bubble."

SOME EXAMPLES ARE GIVEN

If improperly constructed or improperly used, the bubbling drinking fountain may be a greater menace to health than the common drinking cup. The other day an inspector of the U. S. Health Service took a seat beside a bubbling drinking fountain in a railway station and watched the way in which it was used. Forty-seven different persons, of whom 11 were men, 22 were women, and 14 were children, used the bubbling fountain. In almost every case the lips were placed almost completely around the metal ball from which the water spouted, and one small boy seemed as if he were trying to swallow it. Several of the men obviously were chewing tobacco. Of the 47 people, 4 were colored, 3 looked as though they might have tuberculosis, and 3 had an eruption upon the face.

Every person using the bubbling drinking fountain should bear in mind that the object of this sanitary device is to prevent the interchange of mouth secretions. When mucous and other matter becomes attached to metal it sometimes requires considerable force to remove it, and this is not always accomplished by a slowly current of water. In using the bubbling fountain the rule should be "Bite the Bubble." The lips should not touch any part of the fountain and under no condition should the fountain be used for rinsing the mouth or for expectorating.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Secret.)

The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful, says a well-known specialist, is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these conditions, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in the various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes sallow, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face.

But to keep liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unobjectionable medicine that may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called "vegetable castor." The tablets are not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart some vigor and elasticity to the tired, astringent wall. Sentinal tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person.

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blisters, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or visible skin ailments are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowel—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish is such a case to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinal tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming in them. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinal tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinal tablets" as a substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

"Sentinal tablets" aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the mucous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinal tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists Review.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by curing the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Platform Breaking Continue

Refreshed by a long summer vacation and encouraged by its record in the past the Democratic party will be ready to resume the swinging of its axe upon the Baltimore platform when Congress reconvenes in December. And the Democratic axe certainly has remarkable demolishing power. There the few planks remaining intact in the platform on which the party got into power, and those few will undoubtedly go with the others to the splintered heap.

The reduced cost of living plank was perhaps one of the most potent of those that were smashed at the first opportunity, though the whack, wack, of the axe was heard at the same time on the plank which pledged the party to preservation of the merit system. It took lots of hammering to destroy those two planks but the free tolls pledge went out of the platform with only one well-aimed blow. There is one thing that can be said to the credit of Democracy, however—it has been open and frank in the destruction of the platform. The three planks mentioned above were broken into a fine quality of kindling wood without the least sign of remorse or shame, and yet the havoc wrought on more openly than in the case of destroying the pledge of economy. From the day of its installation in power, the Democratic party lost no opportunity to knock and hack and sliver that economy plank. The same is true of the efficiency plank. Indeed, there seems to be much display of glee as the leaders of the administration dance around the few scattered remains of the efficiency pledge.

And there is to be no cessation of the axe swinging. The single-term plank is still untouched but the weapon of destruction is now swinging high, ready to crash upon that hated pledge. It is apparently doomed to destruction. It will go along with that other substantial but already demolished pledge "not to injure legitimate industry." It can hope for no better fate. It will lie in the scrap heap beside the plank which pledged the party to the "development of a merchant marine without imposing additional burdens upon the people." It stands no more chance of survival than does the plank which promised national aid in the construction of post roads.

What there is left of it, it is a sorry looking wreck though it is still some platform compared with what it will be after the Democratic party has had another chance at it. Though it was solemnly declared to be a platform of "pledges made to be kept when in office as well as relied upon during the campaign," it served its purpose prior to election day and has no further usefulness. It was truly not "molasses to catch flies," it was a "hook to catch suckers."

A LONG PLEASURE WALK

"The earliest marriage in or around Indianapolis was undoubtedly that of Jeremiah Johnson and Miss Jane Reagan, which took place early in 1821. In this case, Johnson walked all the way to Connersville and back about twenty miles for his license, and then the lovers had to wait two weary weeks before the first clergyman (Rev. Mr. McClung) came along. From the Indianapolis News of April 19, 1897.

Recent Coal Strike Could Have Been

Avoided if John Bull Had Borrowed Trouble

AGREEMENT WAS TO END

It Was Lloyd George Who Again Adjusted The Difficulty And Put Them to Work

BY ED L. KEEN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Aug. 2: (By Mail).—Providence takes care of drunken men, babies, and—England.

According to some irreverent folks amended version of the old adage is quite justified, especially in view of the timely settlement of the recent coal strike.

Anyhow, it is conceded on all hands over here that John Bull seldom did a more thorough job of "muddling through"—likewise it is admitted that in this particular instance Providence was materially assisted by one David Lloyd George, the new "Business Manager of the British Empire."

The censorship muddle, the recruiting muddle, the Dardanelles muddle, the shells muddle, the machine-gun muddle, the Cabinet muddle, and all the other muddles, big and little, in which Great Britain has been involved since the Great War began—none of them contained such possibilities of widespread disaster as the coal strike muddle. Not only was England face to face with industrial paralysis and general domestic disorder, if not revolution; but she had already been unofficially reproved by her Allies, who recently had been none too enthusiastic anyhow over the support she had had been giving them on the battlefield. The great manufacturing establishments had begun to feel the pinch; a number of the coal-carrying roads had closed down; the Admiralty had grabbed all the available coal supply on the South Wales docks; the increased flow of munitions which Lloyd George had just gotten well started was gravely jeopardized, and—perhaps more portentous than anything else—half a dozen French ships were lying in Cardiff harbor with empty bunkers.

For three months the situation had been developing. If John Bull had merely glanced in that direction he would have seen it; but John probably figured he had quite enough troubles in stock without frisking the future for more. Hunting for trouble never was one of John's long suits.

The five year agreement of the South Wales Miners Federation with the Coal Owners was due to expire June 30. The men had given the required three months' notice that they desired a new deal. The masters refused to listen. The deadlock continued and it was not until three days before the date of expiration of the old agreement that Walter Runniman, President of the Government Board of Trade, whose most important duty it is to prevent strikes if possible intervened. Even then he did not go to South Wales to investigate conditions on the spot or by personal influence among the men and masters endeavor to avert the calamity that everyone in the district was sure would befall the nation. He handled the situation in good old bureaucratic fashion here at his desk in London. It must be said for the masters that they put themselves practically in his hands when they realized the determination of the men. Runniman framed an award which conceded most of the men's demands. But where as this was satisfactory to the Federation leaders, it was rejected by the rank and file. After keeping the men at work on day-to-day contracts for a fortnight, the leaders could go no further, and the strike was on.

Now, there has been a lot said about lack of patriotism on the part of the miners; but very little about the masters. The real reason for this strike was the question of war profits. With the cost of living increased from 50 to 60 percent, the miners felt that they were entitled to share in the enormous profits accruing to the coal owners by reason of the war. But even at that, when the trouble first started, the men said to the masters, in effect: "If you will sell coal at the old prices, we will go on working at the old wage. But if it is your purpose to make money out of the war, we see no reason why we should not share this profit with you. We object to having our patriotism capitalized for your benefit. Is it patriotic to go on increasing the price of coal, not only to our own people but also to our Allies?"

Regardless of whether the miners were right of wrong in their attitude, there is no question but what the owners had taken advantage of the war to line their pockets. Coal prices in London last winter averaged $2.25 per ton above normal; and the cheaper grades which most of the poor people buy—were in some instances as much as $2.75 higher than normally. Against this, place the fact that the miners' original demands in their entirety amounted to an increase of only 9 cents a ton on the cost of production!

In answer to the charge of want of patriotism on their part the miners point out that nearly 100,000 men have been sent to the war from South Wales—50,000 from one county alone. President Winstone of the Miners' Federation has a son in the army; Treasurer Onions, eldest son was recently killed in action, and he had two other sons serving; three of Secretary Richards' sons are in the trenches; Executive Committeeman Gill is a lieutenant in the army, and Watts Morgan, one of the most influential leaders in the district, is captain of a troop of Rhonddda ex-miners.

The strike would still be on today—or there would have been nationalization of the mines—were it not for Lloyd George. When the Minister of Munitions went to South Wales he carried concealed weapons but he didn't have to use them. His marvelous personal magnetism won the day with his fellow countrymen. It was some job, and it is exceedingly doubtful if any other man in England could have accomplished the result so satisfactorily, especially in view of the fierce resentment that had been aroused through the hasty application of the penalty clauses of the Munitions Act to the district. That the men got nearly all they asked for was due to Lloyd George's appreciation of the justice of their claim to a fair share of the war profits of the masters.

UP-TO-NOW IN DESIGN

Designs as shown by some firms are more or less freakish or fadish to attract the attention of the prospective customers with scarcely a thought of their wearing appearance or correctness in proportion. But then they are merely on paper and represent but a small loss if they don't take.

We have faith in our ability as radical designers and as proof we show at our works a most complete selection of ready to erect monuments designed by our nationally recognized designer.

WEATHER FOOLED LOCAL MANAGEMENT

Game With Connersville Called Off Too Early, as it Turned Out to be Fine Day.

K. OF C.'s DEFEATED RED MEN

The weather man slipped one over on the local team yesterday. After the Connersville game had been declared off the sun came out and it turned out to be the best Sunday in a month, and one of the few clear Sundays of the entire season. The rains of last week left the diamond in a muddy condition, but the Rushers and Connersville could have played. The rain Saturday soaked the ground just as it was beginning to dry off real good. Arrangements for next Sunday are not known.

In absence of the Rushers, the Red Men and K. of C. teams of the fraternal league put on an exhibition. The game was won by the K. of C. team, by a score of 4 to 1. Stoops and Miller formed the battery for the Red Men while McKee and Doll worked for the K. of C. team.

Mrs. Harry Hammond Expects to be in Form For Chicago Meet, Which Starts Aug. 23

DOES NOT HAVE TO QUALIFY

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 16.—Mrs. Harry Hammond, the women's western golf champion, was working steadily at Highland course today in preparation for the tournament in Chicago, opening August 23, at which she will defend her title.

Mrs. Hammond has been badly off form this season at times, but her friends reported today that she was gradually overcoming her difficulties and expected to be ready for all comers. Rules governing the women's tournament do not require the title holder to qualify so Mrs. Hammond will not play until the first round has been finished.

RED SOX LOST.

The Arlington Red Sox lost to the Business Men's club at Connersville yesterday 3 to 2, the game going sixteen innings. The contest was one of the best ever witnessed on the Connersville grounds. Scott Cooley, for Connersville, opposed Peck Orme and both pitchers went the entire distance.

BALANCE IS IN FAVOR OF ALLIES

Massing of Austro-German Troops Along Serbian Frontier Does Not Help Their Cause.

BELGRADE IS ATTACKED

Offensive Move is Believed to Forecast Drive Through Balkans to Aid of Turkey.

(By United Press.)

Rome, August 16.—Massing of Austro-German troops along the Serbian frontier and the bombardment of Belgrade, coming at a critical time in the Balkan negotiation, may throw the balance in favor of the allies and bring Bulgaria, Rumania and Greece into the war.

Dispatches from Bucharest and Sofia early today said the greatest alarm has been caused here by news that the Austrians have resumed the offensive on the Serbian frontier preliminary to an Austro-German drive through the Balkans to the relief of Turkey. Both Rumanian and Bulgarian diplomats fear such a move threatens the national existence of their countries.

Both the Grecian and Serbian parliament met today and the Rumanian crown council met yesterday. The decisions they are to make, possibly within the next fortnight, probably will settle the fate of the Balkan states and will have tremendous influence on the outcome of the world war.

DOUBLE HEADER ON FOR NEXT SUNDAY

Manager Davidson Announces That Buckeye Girls Team and White Sox Will be Attraction.

BOTH TEAMS TACKLE RUSHERS

Manager Davidson has arranged for a big double bill for next Sunday offering the fans two games for the price of one. The Buckeye Bloomer Girls will play the Rushers the curtain raiser to the big game and then the Ludlow White Sox will be the big attraction of the afternoon.

The White Sox defeated the Louisville White Sox last Sunday 2 to 1 and from this the fans will see that they have a real ball game. The Bloomer girls have won from several fast teams this season. As an added attraction they play a one-armed outfielder that is said to be a wonder. The two games should draw a large crowd. The Buckeye girls' team will not only prove a novel attraction but will give the Rushville team a god game. The first game of the double header will start at 2 o'clock.

FINANCE IS BIG PROBLEM

Perplexing Question Regarding Road Building is Whether Bond Issue is Best Method.

OR IS IT DIRECT TAXATION?

Problems of Sinking Funds and Bond Retirements All Appeals to Financial Sense.

New York, August 16.—The dominating problem in connection with highway building at the present time is unquestionably that of Finance and Indebtedness. This applies both to country roads and city streets and involves the questions as to whether direct taxation or bond issue are preferable; the proper term for bonds; the bonds which may be judiciously issued for road and street construction under given conditions; the legislation which may be necessary in reducing these essential factors from the haphazard to a basis which shall be scientific and economic; the questions of sinking funds, and bond retirements; all appeal directly to the best financial sense of all citizens, when road or street improvement is contemplated.

The fact that probably one-half of the counties and cities in the United States and other American countries are now at some stage of the agitation for highway betterment makes financial problem one of paramount importance. The subject will be presented and discussed in all its phases at the Pan-American Road Congress, which will assemble at Municipal Auditorium, Oakland, California, Monday, September 13, and continue five days.

While steady and regular advancement has been made during the past ten years in methods of road and street construction, maintenance, and administration, it has been through the Annual Conventions of the two great National organizations, the American Road Builders' Association and the American Highway Association that the knowledge of the various lines of improvement has become general, and the whole world enabled to profit. This year the two Associations have joined their forces to organize the Pan-American road Congress, and secure the presence of delegates from practically every country in All America. They will be aided on the Pacific coast by two organizations with memberships in California, Oregon and Washington, The Tri-State Good Roads Association and the Pacific Highway Association.

Twenty-seven subjects will be considered at the Congress. Six of these are educational; the other twenty-one are open to discussion, not only by those selected by the program committee to prepare papers and lead discussions, but by any one, delegate, member or visitor who may be present, so that all known facts be brought out.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they brought benefit.

The story was told to Rushville residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence.

Has proven the result lasting.

The testimony is home testimony—

The proof convincing.

It can be investigated by Rushville residents.

Harrison Levi, 931 North Sexton street, Rushville, Ind., says: "I had to get up several times at night to pass the kidney secretions, which were sometimes attended with pain. I had severe backaches, too. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills at Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store and it did not take them long to make me well. The pains left and the action of my kidneys became regular. (Statement given June 1910.)

Over two years later, Mr. Levi said: "I am still free from kidney weakness, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills."

GOVERNORS TO MEET IN BOSTON

Thirty-Six States Will be Represented at Annual Session Starting August 24.

FAVOR CITIZEN SOLDIER

Administrative Problems Will Have Place on Program—To Discuss Short Ballot.

Madison, Wis., Aug. 16.—Thirty-six governors of as many states will meet in Boston, August 24, 25, 26 and 27, to attend the annual sessions of the Governors' Conference, where they will hear and participate in the discussion of what the states can do to improve the national defense, according to an announcement by Secretary M. C. Riley, Secretary of the Conference.

"While the times and conditions have forced this subject upon the attention of the entire world, no governor, so far as I have heard, fears that the present world war will force the United States to adopt a policy of militarism," said Secretary Riley. "However, all the governors feel that it is time that immediate steps be taken to develop a stronger and more efficient citizen-soldier. For this reason, the Relation of the State to the National Defense has been given a prominent place on the program.

"Notwithstanding all this, other important subjects will be considered. In many states there has grown up in recent years a well defined movement to concentrate in the executive responsibility for efficient service and economical administration. Many governors will go to Boston this year expecting to benefit in a large way from an exchange of experience with executives of other states. This is an off year so far as the meeting of legislatures are concerned. The sessions of the legislature of the various states have closed. The attention of the governors for the next year will be centered upon problems of administration. Therefore, prominent place has been given to administrative problems on the Conference program. Under this head the following subjects will be presented and discussed: "The Short Ballot," "The Functions of the Governor in Relation to the State Budget," and "Economy and Efficiency in the State."

"Governors Whitman of New York, Alexander of Idaho, Hammond of Minnesota, Willis of Ohio, Major of Missouri, Spaulding of New Hampshire, and Byrne of South Dakota will present these papers and lead the discussions to follow.

"Governors of the western states will present their conceptions of what is true conservation of natural resources. Many of them have taken direct issue with the federal policy of retaining under federal control lands and mines, and water power sites. These governors insist that substantial and satisfactory progress in the development of the west cannot be expected under the federal policy and that true progress can only be made by allowing the western states to deal with these problems according to their judgment which is based upon a more intimate knowledge of the situation.

"Governors Carlson of Colorado, Spry of Utah, Boyle of Nevada and former Governors Ammonds of Colorado and Hawley of Idaho will present the cause of the western people."

STUDENTS HELP HARVEST CROP

FREE CAR FARE IN CANADA

(By United Press.) St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 16.—Transportation of thousands of men to harvest the Northwest's bumper crops is looming up as a serious problem to the farmers of the Northwest states. In Canada, the situation was relieved by railroads offering free transportation. The anti-pass law and the fact that man laborers were concentrated in the cities during the spring, because there was little railroad repair work done through country districts, added to the difficulties of farmers.

Corn was slightly damaged by the recent rains, but other than that crop there has been a universal improvement in the Northwest crops, over last year's condition. Wheat is in prime condition, and will begin to move about Sept. 1. Flax, in fair condition, is beginning to move today. Dean Woods of the Minnesota agricultural school, urges that at least two-thirds of the college students go to the harvest fields this year.

SCHOOL BOARD IS IN QUANDARY

Question Regarding The Employing of Married Women Teachers to go to Higher Court

CONTRACT CLAUSE ILLEGAL

(By United Press.) Portland, Ore., Aug. 16.—The city school board is in a quandary today. Whether to employ teachers who have embarked on the sea of matrimony is the question.

Early this year the school board discharged a fair instructor who dared to marry. She appealed to the courts and Circuit Judge Morrow held that unless she were shown to be unfit to teach she should be reinstated and given the salary she would have earned had she occupied her place in the school room.

The board has decided to appeal to the supreme court. Heretofore each woman accepting a position as teacher in the public school has been compelled to sign a contract accepting dismissal in case she married. Judge Morrow held such a contractual clause was illegal.

Every citizen should loyally support the Great Rush County Fair by attending and taking something for exhibition. 13311
